ATTORNEYS WANT INDICTMENTS QUASHED

SMALL COUNSEL SAYS GOVERNOR NEVER HAD CHANCE FOR FAIR TRIAL

SPECIAL GRAND JURY REPORT PREVENTED IT

Attorney LeForgee Says Report Was Without Sanction of Law and Jury Was Illegally Chosen—Executive Was An Interested Spectator at the Argument of the Motion

(By The Associated Press)

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Dec. 5.—Governor Len Small has never had a chance for a fair trial any place in Illinois since the Sangamon county grand jury returned a "special report" with its indictments against him last July, the governor's chief counsel, C. C. LeForgee, of Decatur, declared today in his argument to quash the indictments against the governor and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park, Illinois, banker.

The governor and Mr. Curtis, thru their attorneys, opened their fight to escape trial on the charges of embezzlement, conspiracy and operating a confidence game with an attack not only on the alleged illegal special report of the grand jury—which Mr. LeForgee said was without sanction in law—but also with the declaration that the grand jury itself was illegally chosen.

Mr. LeForgee declared a sub-committee of the Sangamon county board of supervisors had illegally selected the grand jury list and that the indictments returned by the grand jurors so chosen were null and void.

Arguments on the motions to quash the charges will be resumed tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock. The hearing is expected to last all week.

Governor Small, whose presence in court is required because the embezzlement charge constitutes a felony was an interested spectator. He arrived a few moments before the hearing opened, accompanied by Mr. Curtis, Leslie Small, of Kankakee, son of the governor, and several members of his official family. The party took seats on a long wooden bench at the rear of the attorneys' tables, but as the argument progressed, the governor moved up to the table with his counsel and conferred with the lawyers at frequent intervals.

An audience of approximately 150 persons, gathered to see the opening battle in the fight to save the governor from trial, included but two women.

The indictments which the defendants seek to have quashed, charge Governor Small, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling and Vernon Curtis jointly with embezzling $700,000 from the state; charge Governor Small alone with embezzling $500,000; and charge the three defendants jointly with conspiracy and operating a confidence game involving $2,00,000 in state money.

Mr. Sterling has not asked for a change of venue from Sangamon county and is not involved in the proceedings here. The alleged offenses were committed while Small and Sterling were serving terms as state treasurer. They are charged with failing to turn in interest money collected on state funds.

Curtis is said to have assisted in the alleged conspiracy to defraud the state.

The defense centered the weight of its attack today on the two allegations involving the grand jury's special report and the manner in which the jury itself was created.

"I don't know of but one case in Illinois where a grand jury stepped so wholly and completely outside of all its lawful powers."

Mr. LeForgee declared in taking up the special report, in which the Sangamon county grand jury recited the evidence alleged to have been presented to it and on which it claimed to have returned the indictments.

"It is quite the most remarkable document I ever saw presented in any court," the governor's chief counsel added. He cited numerous statutes and opinions in support of his contention that the grand jury had no legal power to return anything but indictments and that any kind of extra report to the court or any public statement by the grand jury is illegal. Mr. LeForgee also cited a statute forbidding any grand juror or officer of the court to discuss make public or comment, on any felony indictments returned by the grand jury prior to the arrest of the person indicted. The special report of the Sangamon county grand jury, he said, was made prior to the arrest of the governor

SUGGEST ENTENTE CONSISTING OF FOUR COUNTRIES

Would Include U. S., Great Britain, France and Japan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The question of a three or four power agreement to replace the Anglo-Japanese alliance is demanding increased attention among the arms delegates while they wait for Japan to define her position on naval ratio. The latest suggestion contemplating an entente to include the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France is developed to the point where tentative treaty draft is under consideration in some quarters altho it has not been formally presented to the conference.

There are indications that the Japanese delegates and perhaps the British are consulting the home government on such a proposition at the same time that they are asking for further instructions regarding the naval ratio.

On the part of the American government there apparently is no disposition to entertain on entente proposal, at least at the present. Later such a suggestion may receive consideration, provided it includes no requirements counter to Amercan public opinion.

Upon this authority it was said today that the naval problem as referred to Tokio, after the last meeting of the "big three" involves no proposal for a political agreement of any character but is concerned solely with the naval and military aspects of the situation.

The American delgation adheres to its expectation that the naval issue will be settled without conditioning the decision on any sort of a political re-arrangement.

At least some Japanese delegates hold the same view, despite unofficial advices that some elements in Tokio want the two subjects considered together. Admiral Baron Kato head of the Japanese delegation said tonight that he did not propose to play a "bargaining game," at the conference or match off political guarantees against concessions on the naval ratio.

The delay in presenting Japan's definite position on ratio, he declared is due wholly to the difficulties of cable communication and the desire of Japan to act circumspectly in so important a decision.

It has been indicated it may be late in te wek before the Japanese are ready to return a reply to the latest naval proposition.

SUPREME COURT SAYS PICKETING UNJUSTIFIABLE

Hand Down Opinion in Granite City Case

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Picketing in conection with a labor strike is unjustifable if carried to the point of "importunity and dogging" the supreme court ruled today.

Decision as to whether specific instances of picketing come within the court's inhibition must be left for determinaiton on the facts in each such case, it was declared, but the court suggested that pickets should have the right of "observation, communication and persuasion, and might further be limited to one representative for each point of ingress and egress."

The opinion of the court, read by Chief Justice Taft was approved by all the associate justices except Mr. Clark. The case arose out of a strike at the American steel foundries plant at Granite City, Illinois, where 1,300 men were normally employed. After shutting down it resumed operations as an open shop with about 350 men, about one half of whom belonged to labor unions. The Tri-City trades council upon refusal of the manager of the plant to negotiate declared a strike and established pickets. There was considerable violence by the pickets until the courts intervened and restricted their activites. The council then contested the authority of the courts to interfere with its picketing plan.

In going to and from work, men have a right to as free a passage without obstruction as the street affords, the supreme court held today, consistent with the rights of others to enjoy the same privileges.

While attempts to influence another's action cannot be regarded as aggressions or a violation of the other's rights, the court continued, "importunity and dogging become unjustifiable annoyance and obstruction which is likely soon to savor of intimidaton."

In the present case "all arguments advanced and all persuasion used were intimidation," it was declared, adding that pickets should not be abusive, libelous or threatening, nor "approach individuals together."

This rule, the court explained might be "varied in other cases," "the courts must however, prevent the inevitable intimidation of the presence of groups of pickets, but to allow missionaries."

The action of the council in calling the strike under consideration was declared "not malicious," the "strike became a lawful instrument in a lawful economic struggle or competition between employes and employer," the chief justice stated, as to the share or division between them of the joint product of labor and capital. * * * The principle of the unlawfulnoess of maliciously enticing laborers still remains, and action may be maintained therefore in proper cases, but to make it applicable to local unions in such a case as this seems to us to be unreasonable."

COURSE OF NEW CONGRESS FAIRLY WELL CHARTED

Interest Centers in Harding's Address Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Congress reassembled today with the usual formal ceremonies of a new session and with its legislative course fairly well charted. The opening program was routine. Interest in general was subordinated in President Harding's address which will be delivered at a joint session at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow.

His recommendations were expected to deal principally with tariff revision, governmental economy and development of the federal budget system.

Unusual interest in the president's appearance was manifest in view of the assured attendance as spectators of delegates and attaches to the armament limitation conference.

A large majority of senators and house members answered the opening roll calls today. The opening gavels sounded the beginning of the first regular session of the 67th congress, which has before it many months of work. Leaders expressed the hope tonight of completing work by mid-summer but faced the possibility of the session continuing until fall.

With the biennial congressional elections next November much politics was regardeu as assured for this session.

One feature of today's opening was the receipt from President Harding of the first federal appropriation estimates prepared under the new budget law.

The budget proposed for the 1923 fiscal year was $3,505,000,000, a decrease of nearly $500,000,000 from the 1922 outlay, and of more than two billions from current expenditures. No business was transacted today by either senate or house. Both appointed committees to advise the president and each other of the convening of the new session.

The senate was in session only about twenty minutes, but the house devoted three hours to debate on the St. Lawrence waterway project. The point was raised that the discussion before receipt of the president's message, was unprecedented if not discourteous, but republican leadership went ahead with the plan for open debate without pendency of any bill.

Few bills were introduced today in the house and none in the senate. The first important measure of the new session is to be called up to morrow in the senate. This is the administration bill for funding the $10,000,000,000 of allied debts, which passed the house during the extra session but failed to get through the senate. The house bill providing for a debt commission, is to be submitted tomorrow by the senate finance committee for a measure originally proposed by the administration to give the secretary of the treasury blanket authority in funding the loans. A bi-partisan fight against the bill already is brewing.

The tariff revision bill is scheduled to reach the senate early in January, Senator Penrose, finance chairman stated today.

The allied debt and tariff bills were declared by leaders to be the prospective leading subjects of the present session, outside of the regular appropriation measures.

CITY EDITOR IS ASSESSED $500 FINE

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—In accordance with a mandamus of the United States supreme court, Hector Elwell, former city editor of the Milwaukee News today paid a fine of $500 to the clerk of the United States district court.

The fine and an indefinite sentence were imposed after Mr. Elwell had refused to answer questions asked by the March 1920 federal grand jury concerning how certain infromation was obtained by the newspaper.

An appeal to the supreme court resulted in a decision permitting Mr. Elwell if he so desires to avoid incarceration by answering the questions put to him by the grand jury, which, it is said, will gather some time this month and again question him.

BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN FOUND IN SHALLOW GRAVE

Is Found on Big Island in Mississippi River

MT. CCARROLL, Ill., Dec. 5.—Mystery surrounding the death of a young woman whose badly decomposed body was found in a shallow grave on Big Island in the Mississippi river west of Thompson, Illinois, was no nearer solution tonight after an exhaustive inquiry by county officials. No clew to identification or the cause of death had veen disclosed Coroner Schroder said.

Waters of the Mississippi have completely inundated the grave and receded since the body was buried, examination disclosed. This led investigators to agree that the body had been buried a year at least.

Found by hunters who visited Big Island, the body bore no marks of violence, the coroner said, after a close examination. The body evidently had been buried in a blanket and remnants of what appeared to be a dress were found in the grave.

The body is apparently that of a woman about 25 years of age. Brown hair still clung to the skull and the teeth were in perfect condition.

Some authorities expressed the belief that the woman had been a member of a house boat party on the Mississippi but were baffled in attempts to reach a theory of whether she met her death by foul play or from natural causes.

FIFTEEN PERSONS ARE KILLED IN R. R. COLLISION

Twenty Five Are Injured in Head-On Crash

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Fifteen persons lost their lives today and twenty-five or more injured are in hospitals as the result of a head-on collision between two passenger trains on the Newton branch of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, about sixteen miles north of here.

Fourteen bodies were recovered and one of the injured died in a hospital. All were residents of towns along the Newton branch out of Philadelphia.

Most of the victims perished in the flames which broke out almost immediately after the crash for both trains consisted of wooden coaches.

Rescuers were obliged to stand helpless at the top of the cut where the crash occurred while the victims, enmeshed in the wreckage, shrieked as the flames tortured them.

An outbound train ran into an inbound from Newton in this cut which is 35 feet deep, narrow and curved. Its sides were covered with snow and ice and it was with the greatest difficulty that the injured were dragged to the top. Several of the charred bodies had not been identified and it was thought possible that more might lie in the mass of wreckage.

A statement from the railway officials sai the accident "seems to be due to Train No. 151 (that from Philadelphia) overrunning its orders."

An investigation has been started by the railway officials and another has been started the state, while the county officials have announced they will conduct a third.

The cut is situated between the Woodmont and Paper Mills stations just north of Bryn Athyn. The road is single tracked.

The southbound train, carrying to Philadelphia makes no stops between Southampton and Bryn Athyn.

The outbound train usually waits on a siding for it to pass. The engineer is said to have waited ten minutes and when a local that was late passed to have assumed it to be the other and proceeded. The curve with its steep, rocky wall hid each oucoming train form the engineer of the other.

In the middle of the cut the two locomotives crashed. That of the northbound train rose in the air and then toppled backwards falling upside down over the track. The southbound locomotive veered to the east and wedged itself between the rock wall and the wreckage.

Aid was summoned from the nearby stations and ambulances, wrecking crews and fire companies hastened to the scene. A special train was sent out by the Reading officials with all the nurses available from the Jewish Hospital and with blankets from the Rairoad Y. M. C. A.

(By The Associated Press)

ROXANA, Ill., Dec. 5.—One man nwas killed and four others are in serious condition as the result of an explosion which occurred in the Roxana Petroleum company plant here tonight, when some new refining apparatus, being tested for the first time, gave away.

The dead man, H. C. Prochazka, 32, of Milwaukee, Wis., was employed by the company a few days ago.

The injured are:

C. P. Dubbs, president of the Universal Oil company, Chicago, bruised and burned, condition serious.

J. S. Miller, Alton, burned; not expected to live.

J. E. Backus, Chicago, employe of the Universal Oil company; seriously burned; condition critical.

About 25 employes and others interested in the test who were standing approximately 100 feet from the apparatus when the explosion occurred, escaped injury. The property loss is estimated at approximately $25,000. The refining system used in making gasoline was recently installed and was located in a remote part of the company's plant. It was operated by steam under high pressure.

UNION OFFICIALS SAY NUMBER OF STRIKERS NOW TOTALS 41,000

Claim There are That Many Thruout the Country—Packers on the Other Hand Claim Chicago Plants are Wokring Full Force—Two Men Waiting for Every Job

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—At the close of the first day of the strike of packing house workers, union officials announced that 41,000 workmen in packing houses thruout the country were on strike while spokesmen for the packers asserted Chicago plants were operating with full forces, while plants in other centers all continued work.

Twenty nine thousand workers in packing house centers outside Chicago responded to the strike call today, according to a statement tonight by Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America, which called the strike after a wage cut averaging 10 per cent had been decided on by plant assemblies, composed of representatives of employers and workers thru which the packing companies propose to settle questions affecting the workmen.

More than 12,000 workers employed by the "big five packers in Chicago walked out today, according to Mr. Lane. Spokesmen for the big five gave figures to show that only about 1,000 were out in these plants while the number on strike at independent plants was given by packing officials as about the same number.

According to Mr. Lane, practically 28 per cent of the Chicago workers reported for work today.

"I am satisfied that tomorrow will see the packing establishments closed tight because this element will join the majority," he said.

Four independent packing concerns in Chicago and two outside the city, settled with the strikers today, Mr. Lane said.

According to the packers there were two men waiting ready for every job that was vacant and men were being hired to fill the places of the strikers.

Strike Raises Prices

The strike has caused meat prices to raise here, Russell Poole, secretary of the city council high cost of living committee reported. There was no violence in connection with the first day's strike here but at St. Paul several persons were slightly injured when a group of commission men clashed with pickets, while earlier in the day a train carrying 300 strike-breakers was stopped and the occupants of the coaches were forced to flee.

At Oklahoma City, superintendents of the packing plants said about 700 men failed to report for work.

Union men said 1,000 workmen were out. Union officials at Omaha declared the walkout was "practically 100 per cent," while packers estimated that from 40 to 75 per cent were working.

At St. Joseph, Mo., the packers asserted that only 25 per cent of the men were out. Union officers said the number was 60 per cent.

Practically all employes of the Denver packing plants were striking, company officials admitted today and tonight an order was issued in district court demanding that the workmen return to their jobs pending investigation of the dispute by the Colorado industrial commission.

Union officials at East St. Louis said 2,000 of 2,500 employes were out on strike while packing company spokesmen said the number was 65 to 75 per cent.

At Fort Worth company officials said 200 men were on strike and the unions gave no estimate.

Union officials at St. Paul said they were "more than satisfied with the first day's strike results." Swift & Co. announced 400 of its 2,000 employes reported for work.

Few men were reported on strike at Dubuque, Iowa, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Austin, Minn., Milwaukee or Portland, Oregon. At Albert Lea, Minn., about one-third of the workers reported for work, according to plant officials. Reports from Kansas City, Kansas, indicated 2,000 men were out while union officials said the strike was 100 per cent effective at Wichita and Sioux City.

According to the prosecution Bovins came to the rescue of Mrs. Anna Dixon who was being beaten by Norris in an automobile outside the cafe and he was shot and fatally wounded by the policeman.

HOUSE QUARRELS OVER ST LAWRENCE DEEP WATERWAY

Says Public Prejudiced by Spread of Propaganda

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Debate was precipitated in the house today upon its reconvening for the regular session on the questions of improving the St. Lawrence river as proposed in Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deeper waterway project Representatives Chalmers of Ohio and A. P. Nelson of Wisconsin, Republicans, favoring the development, while Representatives Griffin, Democrat, and Hicks, Republican, both of New York, opposed it.

Representative Chalmers in favoring the project, said the completion of the deeper waterways would make of the Great Lakes, a Gibraltar of Mediterranean Sea and bring the Atlantic Ocean within one hundred miles of the center of population of the United States, while Representative Nelson declared it would mean much for the middle and northwest.

The United States barge canal, he added, was inadequate as an outlet from the Great Lakes to the sea, Representative Griffin, however, declared that the New York barge canal would be adequate as such an outlet for years to come and contended that funds should not be expended on the St. Lawrence project until the New York canal was shown to be inadequate.

Mr. Griffin, expressed the hope that necessity for developing the St. Lawrence would ventually arise, but took the position that the expense should be borne by the Canadian government and by the states in this country that would be benefitted.

Development of the New York barge canal, he pointed out, was unde taken at the expense of New York state.

Propaganda had been widely spread, he charged to prejudice the public against the barge canal which, he added was "able to complete with any other waterway that can be devised by the ingenuity of man."

Representative Hicks suggested it might "prove a mistake to put our money on a soil and in a project where he could not control the canal itself," American ships if they use the St. Lawrence route, he said would have to go thru foreign territory.

Urging development of the St. Lawrence waterway Representative Nelson declared that on grain produced within the territoy affected it would bring a saving of approximately $350,000,000 annually. The saving on other commodities will be very great he continued, "and it may be conservatively estimated that the producers of the United States will be benefitted to the extent of several million dollars."

Some months will elapse before the board of education establishes the Josephine Milligan school on property the board owns adjacent to the David Prince school. The hope has been expressed, and with good reasoning, that the school should then become a fixed part of the vocational system, with its cost paid from general funds and not by special subscription.

The supreme court finding in the picketing case at Granite City indicates that Chief Justice Taft's rule of reason has applied. The court does not disapprove picketing of an orderly kind, but indicates that picketing may very easily grade into intimidation. The finding, it is made clear, is not to be applied to every instance and the court reserves to itself the right to make a different ruling after the consideration of the facts.

An editorial from the Chicago Post, which appears in this issue, will be read with interest. It lays emphasis upon the excellence of the work done under the direction of R. W. Woolston, as managing officer of the School for the Blind. Those who are familiar with Mr. Woolston's work are well aware that he has an interest and ability for his work which have given him rank as one of the foremost of the educators of the blind. The editorial was no doubt written by Mr. Duncan Clark, who recently visited Jacksonvile and who has a special interest in one of the pupils at the school.

The city council has not determined upon the full extent of the paving program for next year, as that will be dependent, to a large extent, upon the wishes of the people. However, one thing can be set down and that is that the hard road pavement on Morton avenue will be connected with the street pavement. This is a project which will have practically unanimous support, and the thought will be to have the pavement laid only partially at the cost of adjoining property.

On Dec. 15, the treasury will retire an issue of certificates of indebtedness that has been bearing interest at 6 per cent. The improvement in the credit of the government is strikingly shown in the fact that the last issue of certificates, dated Nov. 1, bear interest at only 4 1-4 per cent. Along with the steady rise in the price of liberty bonds and victory notes has come the equally steady drop in the cost of carrying the floating debt of the treasury. They are both features of the highly efficient management that the nation's finances are receiving at Washington.

THE PERSONAL RELATION TO THE ARMAMENT QUESTION

The Quincy Herald in a succinct way shows the personal interest that each citizen has in the armament question.

In the discussion of most national and international problems the individual citzen rarely can realize in what direct and personal manner the issues involved affect him. He form his opinions, it is true, but most of these are formed for him because of his political associations. He thinks in terms that are abstract and too often vague.

On the issue of limiation of armament, however, he can translate his general principles into specific considerations. He can see directly the great cost of military and naval equipment buildad for no purpose but that of killing men and destroying proprety.

As he looks over old news paper files Mr. Citizen sees that in 1897 our army had 2,179 officers and 25,353 privates, costing taxpayers $31,105.81 a year. This was a shocking sum in those days. There was much demand for economy.

It cost 1,130 a year to maintain an American soldier in 1897. The cost now is about $2,680 a year.

So it goes. Each year is costs more to build an A-1 battleship, an up-to-date piece of artillery, etc. The cost of preparedness ever rises, with no end in sight. As a straight business proposition, disarmament s horse sense.

It is a fortunate thing when even a great moral question can be translated into the terms of personal advantage to each of us in our every day life.

HOW GOVERNMENT MONEY IS SPENT FOR ROAD BUILDING

How the government has employed federal-aid funds for road building through the bureau of public roads, United States department of agriculture, among the various types of roads, is shown in a summary just prepared by the department. The tabulation covers the expenditure of $211,135,276.31 of federal-aid funds from the beginning of the work when it was authorized by longress up to Nov. 1, 1921, a period of four years and four months. That sum was applied toward the construction of 28,135 miles of roads. The total cost of$496,151,683.43. The average cost was $17,630 per mile.

Nearly 36 per cent of the federal-aid funds, or 75,600,279.30, went into the construction of 4,653.6 miles of high-grade concrete roads. Next in size were total appropriations of $47,192,-895.41. Federal-aid funds applied to the building of 10,043.5 miles of gravel road, at a total cost of $104,614,066.71. Federal-aid funds to the extent of $24,-721,020.92 were applied during the period to the construction of 6,864 miles of graded and drained roads, at a total cost of $55,704,-253.78. High-grade bituminous-macadam roads, of which 1,323.2 miles were constructed, at a total cost of $41,412,557.22, claimed federal-aid funds to the extent of $18,646,066.17 For another high type of road—bituminous concrete—$9,209,864.32 was made available through federal aid. That sum went toward the construction of 772.5 miles of roadway, at a total cost of $23,445,-374.88.

Toward the construction of brick roads of which 444.6 miles were built, federal aid was available to the extent of $6,925,-482.13; and toward the cost of 2,695.5 miles of sand-clay roads the federal government contributed $10,495,172.10. The total cost of sand-clay roads were $22,226,362.66.

"CAMILLE"

Adapted by June Mathis from the Dumas Masterpiece

Camille, the woman, beautiful and notorious, ancient as the down of history, new and ever-fresh as an April morning, soft as a lullaby and loud as a trumpet blowing, strong in her secret resolutions and tender as threads of gossamer, the inscrutable, passion-swept woman, who gives everything for the supreme love of life, even to surrendering that love itself; Camille has epitomized for the theatre what Sappho realized through the ages in poetry and Thais in Prose.

ASK GOVERNOR TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS

Would Start Work on Dams and Locks for Proposed Deep Water Route From Chicago to the Gulf.

JOLIET Ill., Dec. 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—A resolution urging Gov. Len Small to advertise for bids for the locks and dams for a deep water route from Chicago to the Mississippi and thence to the Gulf were adopted recently by the Chamber of Commerce of this city. The resolution says:

"Whereas, a bond issue of $20,000,000.00 for building a deep waterway between Lockport and Utica, Illinois, to connect the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico, was approved by the voters in 1908, and

"Whereas, work is now in progress on the locks and dam at Marseilles, but bids for the building of the locks and dams at the four other important points have not been advertised for, and

"Whereas, the reductions in wages and material prices during the past few months and the present prices thereof, would indicate that there will not be any further substantial reductions in the near future, and

"Whereas, there is a widespread unemployment situation at the present time which would be relieved to a large extent if work could be started on the deep waterway at once, and

"Whereas, the completion of the deep waterway will relieve the present dificulties of transportation by rail from Chicago and the great Mississippi Valley to ocean ports and Interstate points, resulting in a reduction of transportation rates and a tremendous saving to all of the people in that vast territory, therefore,

"Be it Resolved, that the Joliet Association of Commerce hereby calls upon Governor Len Small to proceed at once to advertise for bids for the construction of the necessary locks and dams, etc., for the deep waterway, and let the contract therefor at the earliest possible date, as there is no apparent good reason for further delaying this important work."

Clarence Ranson of Lynnville vicinity paid the city a visit yesterday.

VENUE CHANGE ASKED IN THE PIRES CASE

Petition Alleges That Defendant Cannot Have Impartial Hearing Before Judge Smith.

An effort was begun yesterday to secure a change of venue for Charles Ellsworth Pires, who is under indictment for the murder of James Gaddis. The petition as filed by W. N. Hairgrove asked that the hearing on the petition for a change of venue be heard by a judge other than Judge E. S. Smith, now presiding in the circuit court. An affidavit was made by Pires, supported by affidavits from John Nunes, Walter Lacey and Patrick Devlin, setting forth their belief that it would not be possible to secure a fair and impartial hearing before Judge Smith.

There had been no previous notice of the filing of such a petition and Judge Smith granted State's Attorney Robinson until this morning to present argument resisting the motion. The court frankly expressed his surprise on the filing of such papers by Mr. Hairgrove, who had previously stated that he had withdrawn from the case and a notation to that effect having been made upon the docket. Mr. Hairgrove said he appeared as attorney for the purpose of making this motion.

Judge Smith further indicated his belief that the motion for a change of venue and objections to his hearing such a motion were made for the purpose of securing delay in the case. Further the judge stated that as he did not know the defendant or know anything about the case, that he could not understand why he should be considered prejudiced.

Judge Smith said it is possible that he might be prejudiced in some cases where he knew all the circumstances, but in this case, having no knowledge of the circumstances, that certainly there was no ground for the suggestion that Pires could not be given a fair and impartial hearing.

However, the case is to be argued this morning and it may be that the petition filed by Pires, supported by affidavits of three citizens, is sufficient to require that the hearing of the motion for a change of venue shall be heard by some other judge. If this is the case then either Judge Jones or Judge Burton will be called in to preside when the argument for a change of venue is made and the affidavits supporting it and the counter affidavits are considered.

"The Case of Becky"

Adapted from Edward Locke's famous play presented by David Belasco with Frances Starr playing the dual role of Dorothy and Becky.

Before Dorothy Stone was born, a traveling magician or hypnotist named Balzamo visited the little town where Dr. Emmerson and his young wife lived, and when he departed he took with him in hypnotic subjection the woman who became Dorothy's mother. The seventeen years that followed saw the three—the magician, the faded woman and the young girl, traveling about from one country fair to another until the opening scene of the story which shows the grief-stricken girl rising from her mother's death bed with the decision made to run away from the unbearable life she was living.

GRADES FOR HIGH SCHOOL ARE ISSUED

Work of Pupils Show Improvement Principal Schafer Says.

Grade cards for the High school students will be issued for the second time this year tomorrow. The cards are issued every six weeks, for the purpose of having the parents approval and signature one them. There has been confusion among many of the parents as to the date of grade card issuing, and some of them have not seen their children's cards. It is hoped that they will take notice of this so that they will know when to expect the cards and will ask for them.

The cards this time will show a fair degree of improvement. Many of the last grades given were P's and were given when the teacher was not exactly certain as to whether the student was doing passing work. The P's were given to avoid the discouragement that usually follows an F at the beginning of the year. This month they are mostly G's, showing that the students realized the necessity of hard work. Principal Shafer is well pleased with the improvement shown.

which did not occur until Aug. 9, nineteen days later.

The special return, he claimed, was given widespread publicity, extra copies having been prepared and distributed to newspapermen by the state's attorney's' office at Springfield. An affidavit by the city editor of a Springfield newspaper was introduced to show the alleged system of distribution of the report.

Mr. LeForgee declared there was a conspiracy to damn and discredit the name of Len Small, who had just received the greatest gift within the power of the 7,000,000 citizens of Illinois." As he recited the working of the alleged conspiracy, the governor's counsel turned to State's Attorney Mortimer, of Sangamon county and shouted:

"Is it fair, is it right? Is it a thing the people of Illinois are proud of? Did Len Small ever from that hour—anywhere in the state of Illinois—have any chance for a fair trial?"

In his attack on the grand jury which indicted the governor, lieutenant governor and Mr. Curtis, Mr. LeForgee declared the minutes of the board of supervisors show that a sub-committee of the board, consisting of three members, reported to the entire board a list of names for grand jury service at the May term of court, this year, and recommended adoption of the list. Reading from the statute, the governor's lawyer declared the law was plain in its requirement that the board "shall select the grand jury list and that any other process is illegal, and all acts of a grand jury so chosen would also be illegal."

He added into the record a certified copy of the minutes of the board, after Mr. Mortimer had declined to be bound by the copy. The Sangamon county state's attorney asked Mr. LeForgee to place the county clerk of Sangamon county, who prepared the certified copy and who is here subpoenaed as a defense witness, on the stand, but the governor's lawyers declined to interrupt the arguments at this time. The clerk probably will be called later.

C. F. Mansfield, indictment expert of the attorney general's office, who prepared the indictments against the three defendants, was present today and followed closely the defense arguments. The state is represented in addition to Mr. Mortimer and Mr. Mansfield, by James H. Wilkinson, assistant attorney general; Edward Pree, assistant state's attorney of Sangamon county; Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney of Lake county, and W. F. Weis and Elam Clark, of Waukegan.

Mr. LeForgee is assisted by Werner Schroeder, of Springfield, and A. F. Beaubeing of Waukegan.

C. C. LeForgee, chief counsel for the governor in his argument attacking the selection of the Sangamon county grand jury, said:

"A citizen of Illinois has the right to believe that the men who hold the position for setting in motion the criminal machinery of a state will folow the law and when that right is jeopardized and broken down, and the thing is not done and that man is charged with a crime, it is no answer to say to that man, 'true it has been one.'

"No, that grand jury was not selected by a county board. Three men went out into the other room and brought it in and the report was adopted. No, the law was not complied with. It does not make any difference because there was a grand jury. God grant that the time will never come in Illinois when those things, so necessary to the poorest subject to prevent the encroachment of the power of a great state overriding the principles and the right of an individual will be swept rightly to one side, that men may say, 'well he is indicted; let us try him.'"

"In this case you have a situation so full of venom, so full of spleen, so full of dislike, so unnecessary, so uncalled, so brutal, so cruel that it is hard to find a reason within the law which would excuse or extentuate the conduct of a grand jury to take it into their hands in violation of the law to put themselves upon on record, taking the evidence produced before them without the opportunity for a man to be heard, and hurl it broadcast throughout a community and then say, 'go try him.'"

WAR VETERAN DIES OF INJURIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Harry Baird, 40 years old, a war veteran of Fairfield, Illinois, who was being treated at the Speedway hospital for shell shock, died tonight of injuries received when he was supposedly attacked by another patient in the ward for nervous cases, it was reported by hospital authorities.

The nurse in charge of the ward left to perform other duties and when she returned she found Baird dying, according to Dr. Taylor, a physician at the hospital. The doctor said he believed a patient might have become violently insane and attacked Baird.

Dr. Taylor said a thoro investigation into the cause of Baird's death would be held.

STATUS OF FARM BUREA ORGANIZATION

(By George B. Kendall, County Agent.)

The history of Morgan County Farm Bureau has been told in previous reports and I am sure that all of you would gladly welcome something fresh. The census of 1920 shows that Morgan county had 2420 farms. The combined drive for membership with the I. A. A. left us 1044 enrolled in both organizations. To this total may be added 70 who are members of the counuty urganiztion who for some reason did not re-enlist during the drive The membershipcs of these 70 have now expired. They have been solicted by letter to join both organizations, but none have responded. However, five are continuing to pay dues as county members.

The intensive drive resulted in many new members coming in without very much of an understanding of the real purpose of farm bureau work. The fall in prices has left many in such a frame of mind that it is difficult or impossible to get them to see any good that has been accomplished by either county, state or national organizations. The ordinary methods of publicity are either not reaching our membership, or not affecting them favorably if it does reach them. However, we think the personnel of the membership of the Morgan County Farm Bureau will compare favorably with that of any county in the state, and sincerely believe that we must build a machine that will carry by word of mouth the accomplishments of the organizations to the rank and file of our membership. In other words we must work for a leadership who will not only familiarize themeselves with the accomplishments of the county, state, and national organizations, and will pass them on even when the opposition is strong.

At present we have an executive committee of nine, nineteen township chairmen, and in addition have a man in each school district that we like to call a co-operator. We also have here and there over the county members who have no official position but who will come in for conferences and will line up on any good proposition. We really would like to have for township chairmen, men that you know will co-operate with us in their township, and will come out occasionally to meetings held in the Farm Bureau office. We would prefer for a township to have no chairmen rather than one who will not do these things. That man in the school district is also important. If he gets the vision, he can do for his township. We really would prefer to have these co-operators named at the suggestion of the township chairmen and really be on friendly terms with him. In arranging meetings it would be ideal for us to call the township chairmen, he in turn the co-operators, and they in turn the members in their school district. If this machine would work without so much oiling we could do far more effective work and arouse a little enthusiasm when everybody has the blues.

The American farmer is the best single driver on the face of the earth, but he won't score one hundred when it comes to team work. The word, co-operation, is not used very often by the man on the farm nor are the principles implied in the word completely worked into his nervous system. Breathe it softly but both the adviser, associate adviser, office secretary and officers sincerely hope that every member may get into the game and not only get his own money's worth but help the other fellow get his. Every one will not take his medicine cheerfully, even when it is brought to him on a silver platter. For example, although we have written articles, sent out circular letters, and talked about the way to avoid the Hessian fly by late seeding, we did not get anything like a hearty response until this fall, when the most of the wheat was seeded safe. We still have a lot of members who will bump their heads against a wall in spite of danger and keep-off signs, but then it is their head and their wall. The fittest will survive and be the most prosperous and ultimately we shall have a race of farmers who will let the experiment stations do the experimenting and will read appreciably the suggestions they have to make. We certainly shall welcome that day.

Our executive committee is divided into four standing committees, namely: auditing, membership, and finance, and resolution. The most of the business of the executive committee is acted upon by the committee as a whole rather than by the smaller committees. In general it seems best to appoint special committees to do a special work, and discharge them when that work is finished rather than have too many standing committees.

We nave held two meetings the past year in which we have tried to get a representative gathering for a particular purpose, namely: one to get the sense of the membership in regard to loaning the United States Grain Growers, incorporated, money for organization purposes and the other to determine a fair price for threshing. In general the executive committee, township chairmen, and about 100 other members that we knew would respond, were asked to come for this special conference. The meetings were lively and to the point. In our opinion it is a fine thing to get the right parties out for a conference if we are going to get anywhere in farm bureau work.

One of the big events of the year was a picnic at Waverly fostered by the farm bureau and put on by the business men of that community. In this we had the co-operation of Advisers Madden and Rusk of Sangamon and Macoupin counties. While the picnic was a success the attendance was not as great as we expected, owing to an epidemic of infantile paralysis in that community, to the fact that the date was too early for the farmers and the general slump in prices made people cautious about spending their money.

The county fair, which was fostered by the farm bureau to the extent of furnishing the services of the associate adviser as secretary, was an outstanding event of the year. Six members of the executive committee and the associate adviser gave their time unselfishly to this project. It was a success and will be repeated. A detailed report will follow by the associate adviser under the livestock and dairying work.

We have not held as many demonstration meetings as in times past. It seems difficult to get anything new and startling enough to arouse interest as a demonstration. Our farmers are not interested in increased production at the present time, but are rightly interested in a decent price for what they produce. So far we have not been able to demonstrate our ability to produce anything in the price fixing line that can stem the tide at the present time.

The office work is decidedly varied, and of such a nature that is impractical to keep a detailed account of all the daily transactions and consultations. Our relationship to National and State organizations has increased materially the correspondence thru the office. In fact they interfere to a large extent with what our membership might get in the form of farm visits and personal service. We are now working on fewer and larger projects instead numerous small things. As a result of the intensity of advertising on any of these lines of work, we have more callers at the office than when we are merely trusting to luck for something to happen.

The membership in the outlying distrists is not asking for much service and are not really getting much personal service. In general we have tried in both office and field work to follow definitely the program of work developed at the community meetings last winter, without some member asked for a particular service when we bent every energy to meeting his request.

The Farm Bureau this year cooperated with the Secretary of the Farmers Institute in arranging for three one-day institutes at three different points. The sessions consisted of an afternoon and evening session at each place with a supper thrown in between. The arranging of the programs and the advertising were taken care of byt those employed by the Farm Bureau. Circulars were sent to the membership in the townships where these meetings were held. As a result these meetings were well attended. The Farm Bureau had a traveling exhibit of soils, seed corn and wool that was shown at each place.

We have tried to co-operate with the I. A. A., in every way, altho it took time and prevented us from making many country runs that we would have preferred to make.

We have answered questions, endorsed resolutions, sold harness, blankets and auto robes, and in general tried to cooperate loyally with them in eevryway.

The same is true of our relations toward the A. F. B. F. We did not fill out one questionnaire for it required a man to write prices as numerous as found in Sears Roebuck.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED ON THE IRISH QUESTION

Will Be Submitted to Parliament and the Dail Eireann

(By The Associated Press)

A copy of the agreement has been sent to Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, by special messenger.

The conference between the government ministers and Sinn Fein delegates reached an agreement at an early hour this morning on the new proposals, which underwent certain modifications for an Irish settlement.

After a session which lasted more than three hours, from 11:15 last night until 2:20 this morning, the meeting of the government ministers and the Irish representatives in the Downing street residence of the prime minister, seperated and a member of the cabinet, replying to a question as to how things stood, said:

"The news isn't bad. An agreement in fact has been reached, the terms of which will be communicated to the press in time for the Wednesday morning papers."

BABE RUTH IS STRUCKOUT BY JUDGE LANDIS

Commissioner Causes Babe To Whiff on Slow Ball

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The "bad news" for Babe Ruth, world's champion home run hitter with the New York Yankees, broke today.

Ruth was fined his world's series prize amounting to 3,362.26 and suspended until May 20 of the 1922 season by Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball for participating in exhibition games following the world's seres.

Outfielder Bob Muesel and Pitcher William Piercy, also members of the pennant winning Yankees, who participated in the barnstorming trip with Ruth drew substantially the same penalty. Pitcher Piercy's fine was $100 less than the tother two players—Piercy's share of the world's series being that much less than the other players received.

The suspension of Ruth for at least the first month of the American League pennant race practically means baseball observers pointed out tonight, that the New York slugger will have little chance of breaking his home run record next season. The fact that he will not be eligible to apply for reinstatement until May 20—the season starting about April 14—makes it almost impossible for him to shatter his record of 59 homers, the experts said.

The decision punishing Ruth and the other players, which, in the baseball world rests as the most important Judge Landis has made since he became commissioner was made after two months deliberation. After the players gave up their tour Judge Landis sent each a questionnaire, asking their reasons for violating the rules of organized baseball. The rules, enacted in 1911, forbids a member of a team competing in the world series from copeting in any exhibition games after the close of the series. Ruth replied to the questionnaire but neither of the others answered it.

Judge Landis, in his decision said the offending players "wilfully and defiantly violated the rules and that the situation involved not merely rule violation but rather a mutinous defiance intended by the players to present this question: Which is the bigger—baseball or any individual in baseball.'

BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Coach Mitchell Has Lots of Material — Springfield Wants Thanksgiving Game and Also Two Basketball Games.

Basketball practice started yesterday afternoon at High school with a large turnout of material. Coach Mitchell is pleased with prospects this year and all indications point to a successful season.

A communication was received from Springfield yesterday in regard to a game with the local school. Springfield had dug up several open dates and in all probability Springfield High will meet Jacksonville High on the local foor on January 7th. Coach Mitchell is doing his best to get in some games at home with teams from the larger schools but is having a hard time of it. The other school are reluctant for some reason and may of them have their schedules completed.

The Springfield letter also included a contract calling for Thanksgiving games with Jacksonville for two years. It will be impossible for Jacksonville to meet them on Thanksgiving of next year as a two year contract with Alton will be in effect next year. After next year, however, Coach Mitchell is anxious to sign such a contract. Jacksonville fans can rest assured of a Springfield game for the Thanksgiving games in 1923 and 1924 as both of the schools are anxious to sign up.

The first game of the basketball season is scheduled for December 1th, but this date may be changed to the 17th in order to accommodate Coach Harmon of Illinois college, who has a game scheduled for the 1th.

FURTHER PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Some further plans are being laid for the Christmas decoration plans. According to Secretary Welch of the Chamber of Commerce steps are being taken to secure a huge Christmas tree, as tall as most of the trees in Central park. This Christmas tree would be decorated with numerous colored lights along with other Christmas decorations and would probably be erected on the west side of the square. The huge Christmas tree would be the crowning effect for the Christmas decorations, and it is hoped that every effort will be made to secure the tree.

JOINT RECITAL AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

The fourth recital in a series of faculty program was given last evening at the music hall of the Woman's college by Miss Beatrice Horsbrugh, violinists, and Miss Olga Sapio, pianist, before a large and appreciative audience.

The program opened with a sonato for piano and violin by Sjogren. An authorative and musicianly interpretation of this composition by both artists combined with perfect ensemble, made this number very interesting indeed.

On Miss Horsbrugh's second appearance she gave three numbers. In the first one, a Kreisler arrangement of a Bach prelude in E Major, the young artist gave a masterly interpretation of a number which is a severe test of the skill of any violinist. It was performed with ease and abandon. The second and third numbers of the group, "Pastorale," by Scarlatti Franko, and "Dance in A Major," by Brahms-Hochstein, were played with the artistic finish and variety of color so necessary to compositions of that type.

Miss Horsbrugh's third group consisted of three numbers. The first two, "Meditation," by Cottenet and "Berceuse," by Faure, were played with warmth of feeling and clearness of tone. The third number, "Mazurek," by Tor Aulin, because of its dash and rythm, made a fitting closing number for the group.

Miss Horsbrugh beyond a doubt has established herself in Jacksonville as a genuine artist, thoroughly competent and musicianly.

Miss Sapio opened her first group with two numbers by Debussy whose veiled harmony were made especially beautiful by skillful pedaling and the lovely tone quality which is Miss Sapio's main asset.

Andante and Allegretta from "Two Impressions of the Prairie," and "Dance Negre," by Cyril Scott were played with color and musicianly understanding.

Miss Sapio's last group, which was made up of Chopin compositions, was played sympathetically and again mention must be made of the lovely tone quality which was especially marked in the nocturne in F Sharp Major.

Both artists are to be congratulated upon their excellent ensemble all through the program and it is to be hoped that Jacksonville will be favored in hearing them often.

CASS COUNTY SHERIFF SHOOTS PRISONER

Roy Erickson Killed by Sheriff George W. Farrar When Attempting to Escape from County Jail.

Virginia, Dec. 5.—Roy Erickson, aged 36 years, of Peoria, was shot and instantly killed at the county jail here Sunday evening at 5 o'clock by Sheriff George W. Farrar. Erickson and two other prisoners made an attempt to escape from the jail and in the fight which ensued one of the men was killed and another injured.

Sheriff Farrar was alone at the jail when the prisoners called for a bucket of water. He hesitated for a moment, then took the water to the prisoners. On opening the door the sheriff was seized and overpowered and the keys taken from him. The prisoners attempted to lock Mr. Farrer inside the jail but he thrust his foot in the door, preventing its closing. As the prisoners fled Sheriff Farrar commenced shooting. Erickson was shot and killed in the kitchen of the jail. Clarence Spencer, an auto thief, was shot in the breast, while Darrell Riggs, also charged with stealing an automobile, escaped uninjured.

Erickson was charged with the theft of dry goods from the John McIntire store.

A search was made for the escaped prisoners but as yet no trace of them has been found. Bloodhounds from Winchester arrived during the night and took up a trail to a residence about five miles south of town, where an escaped convict from Springfield was caught by Sheriff Farrar Saturday. The place is suspected as a white slave joint, but no men could be found. The hounds are still in this city and another effort is to be made to locate the trail of the missing men.

The body of Erickson was taken to the King & Bailey undertaking parlors and prepared for burial. Despatches from Peoria state that no one by the name of Roy Erickson is known to belong to that city.

Sheriff Farrar is naturally disturbed over the happening and was somewhat used up by the encounter with the three men.

Two men, thought to be Harry Spencer and Darrell Riggs, passed through the outskirts of Arenzville about 7 o'clock Monday evening. The men stopped at a farm house and asked for caps and coats. They were given caps but the farmer did not have any coats.

The men, when they left the farm house, headed west toward Meredosia. The farmer suddenly realized that they must be the escaped prisoners and notified Sheriff Farrar.

The Cass county sheriff called up Sheri Weatherford and asked him to make a search along the road leading to Bluffs and Meredosia.

At the time the message came the sheriff and his deputies and Captain Elliott and the night police force, were searching a Burlington coal drag that had just arrived from Arenzville. The sheriff immediately started for Meredosia in Deputy Sheriff [illegible] car and [illegible]

HAYS URGES EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING

Postmaster General Sends Out Communication to Postmasters Thruout United States.

Postmaster General Hays' message urging early mailing of Christmas packages was read to all the school children Monday, by the teachers, at the request of the postal department and of Postmaster Dunlap of Jacksonville. Much relief from the bad Christmas rush would result if school children and their parents would follow these requests:

"To the boys and girls of the United States:

"Christmas is almost here.

"Your great Post Office Department has a big job ahead and needs your help.

"Think what it means to be Santa Claus to our 100,000,000 people and to deliver Christmas parcels to every family in this great country within the short space of a few days and without disappointment.

"It can be done, and we're going to do it if we may have your help. I want to enlist the active assistance of every boy and girl in the schools of our country in getting parcels mailed THIS WEEK to relieve the rush that comes directly before Christmas.

"Will you go home today and take this message to your parents and friends?

"'Our postmaster has asked us to mail our Christmas parcels THIS WEEK, for, unless we do, Uncle Sam's load may be so heavy the last few days before Christmas that he won't be able to deliver all the presents by Christmas eve.'

"The parcels must be well wrapped and tied and addressed plainly in order that they may arrive in good condition with their Christmasy appearance unspoiled. You can put on your packages, 'Do not open until Christmas.'

"And, there must be a number on your house and a mail receptacle, too, for, if there isn't, Santa Claus's messenger, your letter carrier, may not be able to find the house where the present belong.

"There are some other things in which you can all assist in improving the mail service and in saving our great Government millions of dollars a year that is now wasted because of our carelessness—yours and mine.

"Every day that you drop a letter in the mail box 40,000,000 other letters are already pushing and jamming through the postal machinery. One letter a day for each family of five persons in the United States is given to Uncle Sam to deliver.

"When you send a parcel to the post office for mailing any day there are about 8,000,000 other parcels ahead of yours passing through the postal hopper. This is in ordinary days; at Christmas time it is multiplied many times.

"One family in about every ten puts a badly addressed letter in the mail every day. This mixes up over 2,000,000 half-addressed letters with the 40,000,000 fully adressed letters. That means that the fully addressed letters must wait on the slow-moving poorly addressed letters just like the larger boys and girls are delayed by a bunch of "bad kids" tagging along.

"You boys and girls can help the Postal Service and save your father some money, because he has to help pay the cost of searching addresses on letters and parcels sent out by this one careless and thoughtless family in every ten.

"First find out if your family is the careless one, then bear in mind that your letters must be handled by skilled mail distributors standing in post offices and on swaying postal cars of a mile-a-minute mail trains, often under poor light.

"The address on every letter, card, or package must be corect, complete, and legible, including the house number and name of street, and the "From" address should be in the upper left-hand corner so that the mail will be returned to you in case it is not delivered. Do not abbreviate names of States because so many look alike when so abbreviated.

"Put the proper amount of postage on your letters and wrap the parcels carefully. Avoid fancy writing, which causes post-office clerks and letter carriers to stop and study, and thus lose time. Make the address plain and easily read, and always use pen and ink or typewriter and light-colored envelopes, so as to save the eyes of the post-office clerks. Do not use envelopes of unusual size. The little ones that are so frequently used for cards and notes at Christmas or other holiday times cause an untold amount of trouble and labor, as they will not fit our canceling machines and must therefore be canceled by hand. Because of their size and tendency to slip out of a package, these small envelopes are more likely to be overlooked or lost.

"Mail your letters and packages early in the day because this avoids overloading and delaying mail at the end of the day.

"Your local postmaster and your teachers will tell you more about the Postal Service.

"Do these things, and you will win the grateful appreciation of the people in your post office and especially of your Postmaster General.

"WILL H. HAYS.

"P. S.—Don't forget to mail Christmas packages THIS WEEK."

ENLARGED PLANS FOR OPEN AIR SHCOOL

Board of Education Receives Report of Special Committee—General Rules Will Be Revised —Officers Reports Presented.

The board of education held a regular meeting Monday night at the new high school building. Some time was spent in the discussion of the general rules for the management of the schools and a number of changes were made in accordance with suggestions from Supt. H. A. Perrin. The printed rules are revised every three or four years.

One matter of interest was the change in the rates of tuition. In the grade schools the charge for non-resident pupils has been $2 per month and this will be raised to $3. In the high school the tuition has been $8 a year, and this is to be increased to what is accounted as the actual cost.

President Lippincott and the following members were present: T. H. Rapp, Dr. W. P. Duncan, Dr. C. E. Black, A. C. Metcalf, Charles Fiedler, Henry Muehlhausen, H. L. Caldwell, Thomas Hopper and George S. Rogerson.

One of the most important matters was with reference to the open air school, and report was presented by a special committee making recommendations for the operation of the school on a still broader basis of endeavor after July 1, when the contract expires with reference to the present location.

The committee was continued after report had been approved and at a later meeting will present figures showing the estimate of cost for emoving the open air school to the Springer property on Jordan street.

The report as presented by E. M. Dunlap, treasurer, showed balance Nov 30 in the general fund of $21,897.68. The pay roll approved for the month amounted to $13,254.05, with general bills of $3,468.89.

Supt. Perrin reported some facts with reference to furnishings neded in three rooms in the domestic science departmnt and the purchases were authorized.

The superintendent presented his rport with reference to attendance and the general facts are given below.

When the committee report was read with reference to the Josephine Milligan school Dr. Black said that he believed before another school year that such provision should be made for the open air school that special financial solicitation should not be necessary for its operation. The report of the special committee with reference to the open air school was as follows:

The Open Air School.

The special committee appointed to investigate and report on the matter of types of open air health work for the Jacksonville Public Schools begs to report as follows:

We have examined the plans used in such cities as St. Louis, Chicago, Portland, Cincinnati, Cleveland, together with the recommendations of the state and national departments of education, conclusions as regards the future and have come to the following conclusions as regards the future of such work in our Jacksonville Public Schools.

First, that in cooperation with the Morgan County Tuberculosis Association we shall conduct the Josephine Milligan Open Air School for the following types of cases:

1. Tubercular contact, family history, or inactive lung finding cases—such cases to be compulsory attendance.

2. Malnutrition cases 20% or more under weight—attendance permissive.

3. Extreme nervous cases, except corea—attendance permissive.

In this school there shall be no cripples, no mental defectives, no confirmed truants, no incorrigibles and no open cases of tuberculosis. It shall distinctly be an opportunity school with a superior type of treatment primarily for the prevention of tuberculosis in children.

This school shall be run on the all day plan furnishing midday lunch and having close medical and nurse supervision as at the present time.

Second, that one open window room be provided in each of the four large grade schools. These rooms will be run on the 60° temperature plan which does not call for undue clothing.

The following types of cases shall be the chief ones served by these rooms:

1. Malnutrition cases between 10 and 20%.

2. Low physical resistance resulting in tired or worn out condition before the end of the school day.

3. Opportunity, individual help for pupils needing the same in the school system.

4. Nervous cases.

These rooms will be run on the nutrition class basis which will provide for the usual going and coming to school morning, noon and night but will specifically emphasize (1) nutrition by glass of milk or milk and cracker at mid sessions; (2) special rest and recreation period of at least one-half hour during each session.

Third. Inasmuch as the lease on the present Open Ar school expires the first of next July, it is the opinion of this committee that plans for the future housing of the central open air school should be taken up at once, and that such committees should be appointed as will see that the final plans of the board of education in these matters shall be carried forward with sufficient speed to insure occupancy by the opening of school next september.

Respectfully submitted,
Committee—
Dr. W. P. Duncan.

CITY COUNCIL CONSIDERS PAVING PROJECTS

Looks Forward to Reasonable 1922 Improvement Program — Budget for Next Year Discussed—Officers Monthly Report Presented.

The city council plans to do some paving the coming year and will at an early date take the preliminary steps. This was the announcement at a regular meeting of the council held Monday night. Mayor Crabtree, City Clerk Scott and Aldermen Rowe, Williamson, Cain, Chapin, Ehnie, Lonergan, Flynn and McGinnis answered the roll call.

Alderman Rowe of the finance committee made informal reference to the finances for the coming year, and asked for the views of the council as to a budget plan for the regular appropriation ordiance. Alderman Rowe suggested that it will be advisable for the council to consider the matter of occupational taxes or some other means of increasing revenue if the city is to lessen the amount of anticipation warrants.

A great many other cities have adopted the occupational tax plan because the returns from taxes have not kept pace with the increased costs of operation.

Alderman Lonergan suggested that possibly because of the lesser costs at the power plant the coming year than any new source of taxation might not be necessary. Alerman Rowe made it plain that he had no special recommendation to make at the time, but brought the matter to attention so that it could have consideration before the beginning of the new year.

Paving Projects.

Alderman Williamson suggested that whatever new paving projects are in prospect should be taken up soon. City Engineer Henderson mentioned that he had attended a hearing on street paving in Kansas City and that such hearing had already been held in Springfield and Bloomington and a number of other central Illinois cities.

Mayor Crabtree made it plain that the Morton avenue connection with the hard road must certainly be made and that it is very desirable that the remaining part of East State street be paved to the city limits. Mention was made also of Jordan street, North Main, the block on West Court street between Church and Fayette and possibly West College avenue.

If the council follows the previous policy it will not put down pavements where a great majority of the property owners object.

Alderman Chapin suggested that on Morton avenue possibly an 18 foot pavement, the same width as the hard road, might answer the needs.

The mayor referred to the good work done in the street department under Supt. White's direction and indicated that several thousand dollars of the fund set aside for this work had not been expended. The prospect is that next year not even as large an expenditure will be necessary in this department.

Alderman Flynn reported an inspection trip to the brook sewer and his belief that some remedial steps must be taken in order to avoid later trouble.

Other Matters.

Alderman Ehnie told of a satisfactory conversation with A. T. Capps of the firm of Capps & Sons, relative to the smoke from the factory, about which complaint has been made. The firm will use every effort to make conditions satisfactory. The alderman also reported satisfactory arrangement with the Cannon Commision Co. for the use of the city dumping ground.

The question of some improved furnishings for the cells at the city prison was referred to Alderman Cain and other members of the police committee.

On the suggestion of City Clerk Scott there will be but one pay roll this month and it will be made December 23.

Alderman McGinnis reported that recommendation will be made at an early date with reference to the platoon system as applied to the fire department.

Mayor Crabtree called attention to the zoning act and the city planning commission authorized by the last legislature. The purpose of the two bodies was largely to keep the right of relationship between business and residential districts a nd to direct the growih of cities along the most satisfactory lines. The mayor was asked to look further into the law and make recommendations to the council. The commission if appointed will serve in an advisory capacity to the council.

Officers Reports.

The reports of officers were presented and approved.

Dr. A. M. King, city health physician, reported as follows: Total deaths in November, 23, of which 15 were at the insane hospital. There were 164 deaths of residents and 27 non-residents. The age range was as follows: Under 1 two; 1 to 5 one; 5 to 20 three; 20 to 50 nine; 50 to 70 seven; over 70 eleven. Contagious diseases reported were as follows: Diphtheria 2, scarlet fever 2, typhoid fever 2, whooping cough 1.

Chief of Police Kiloran reported 28 arrests with fines and costs amounting to $227.50. The arrests were on the following charges: Disorderly conduct 18, drunkenness 4, wheel tax ordinance violation 3, traffic law 2, larceny 1.

John H. Pires, sexton at Jacksonville cemetery, reported 7 graves made during the month of November, and Harry Summers, sexton at Diamond Grove cemtery, reported 13 graves made.

H. K. Chenoweth, city treasurer, reported a balance in the general fund of $1,895.41. The report of J. E. Scott, city clerk, showed receipts from Diamond Grove cemetery $882.30, Jacksonville cemtery $165, general $2,267.70.

W. H. Cobb, water superintendent, reported meters sold $65, taps $15, repairs $13.42, water collections, $4,929.98.

Grace Church Notes

The bright crispy winter like weather on Sunday morning was a welcome change to the damp warm cloudy weather of the last few weeks. It was favorable for a good attendance in all departments of the school. The singing in the school was spirited. Samuel Osborne and Harold Hopper, the representatives to the Older Boys Conference held recently at Decatur, made very interesting reports on the conference. Hon. Henry Rathbone of Chicago talked to the Men's Bible class briefly. The interest in the Auto Attendance contest in the Junior Department is increasing.

The total attendance was 372, and the Centenary offering amounted to $40.32.

The subject of the morning sermon was the "Indwelling of Christ" and was an appeal that has seldom been equalled for power from the pulpit of Grace church.

Intermediate League met at 2:30 with Miss Agnes Davis, leader. Epworth League met at 6:30 with Harold Cocking leading. An unusually large attendance of young people present. At 7:30 the Hon. Henry Rathbone delivered a very forceful address on the "Assassination of Abraham Lincoln." His father and mother being guests of President Lincoln and occupying the box with them at the theatre on that fateful evening. Weaving in the personal relation to the event the speaker made an address that every one interested in the life of Abraham Lincoln would thoroughly appreciate and enjoy. The School of Religion on Tuesday evening 7:30 at the Woman's College every week.

Mid-week prayer service on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Thursday evening the Young Women's Fellowship Circle will meet at the church. An interesting program on "Alaska" being prepared.

Boy Scout Troop 7 will meet Thursday evening at 7:30.

Friday evening the Epworth League will give an old fashioned box social in the church parlors. All young people of the church and congregation are invited.

AGED WHITE HALL RESIDENT IS DEAD

Death of Mrs. Harriet E. Griffin Occurred at Early Hour Sunday Morning After Long Illness.

White Hall, Dec. 5.—The death of Mrs. Harriet E. Griffin occurred at 12:10 yesterday morning in the home of her son, J. A. Griffin, on Maple Heights. She had been in a precarious condition for a month, and the end was not unexpected. She was 86 years of age last April, her birth having occurred April 17, 1835, in Greene county, and her entire life has been spent in this county, the greater part of the time in the vicinity of Wrights.

The husband of the deceased was the late Joseph Griffin, the family having resided in White Hall for a number of years, and he died some twenty years ago. Since his death the deceased has been residing among her children, Alonzo Griffin, Fillmore, Ill.; David Griffin, Coffeen, Ill.; Mrs. Lucy Green, St. Louis; Mrs. Jennie Speakly, White Hall vicinity, and J. A. Griffin. About a year ago she suffered a broken leg in a fall while at the home of her son at Fillmore, and was able to come to White Hall on crutches a short time before her last illness. Her maiden name was Clark. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon with burial in Hickory Grove cemetery at Wrights.

Blanch Sherman Merriman, pianist; and Dorothy Sherman Elliott, interpretative dancer, will give their joint recital at the Woman's College, Music Hall, on Thursday, Dec. 15th, at 8:15 P. M. Tickets for sale at Brown's Music Store.

THE MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE

After the Jacksonville Country club went out of exisitence, a number of Jacksonville citizens who were interested in the game of golf were granted permission by the Park board to lay out a five hole golf course in Nichols park. These few holes were laid out north of the lake. The park south of the lake was part swamp and part meadow, noted for its snakes, mosquitoes, etc. The Nichols Park Gun club kept a small place mowed down; there was a driveway around thru the park. Very little use, however, was made of the south end of the park.

These few pioneer golfers started the Municipal Golf association and in time were granted permission to use the grounds south of the lake along with that on the north side for a golf course.

Then the south end of the park began to show the effects of their efforts. Foot bridges were built; grass was cut and kept cut; low place were filled in and drainage ditches put thru. All this work was done, (with the exception of the mowing, which was done by the Park Board) with money contributed to the Municipal Golf association by individuals who were interested in the game. Two thousand dollars has been spent on grading alone.

Practically every other city in the State of Illinois, the size of Jacksonville, maintains a municipal golf course, which is supported by the municipality.

Jacksonville has a municipal golf course supported by golf players. Practically all the money that has been expended on the Nichos Park Golf course has been donated by individuals. With a little aid the local municipal golf course coud be made one of the best in the state.

Anyone is welcome at all times to play on this course free of charge. It is in reality a large play ground which can be used by anyone, whether he is ten years old or seventy.

It is to be hoped that not only the citizens of Jacksonville, but the officials of the city as well will take an increased interest in Jacksonville's municipal golf course.

The Woodson Woman's club will give a chicken pie and plum pudding supper December 8 for the benefit of the Anti-Tuberculosis Sanitorium. Price 50c. Music by Woodson band.

PUBLISH MAP OF ISLANDS OF PACIFIC

WASHINGTON—(By the A. P.)—The national geographic society has just published a map of the islands of the Picific which is very timely in view of the questions affecting these islands discussed in the Washington conference this map shows in a very graphic manner the groupings of islands controlled by the different nations whether under national sovereignty or by a mandate of the peace conference. Each national group is heavily outlined in colors, so that for example, the observer quickly notes that the group islands placed under the Japanese mandate lies between the Hawaiian islands and the Japanese man,(the Philippines, United States possessions.

In preparing the map, the national geographic society was aided by the criticism of the graphic section of the war department, far eastern division of the state department and the hydrographic office of the navy department.

BERBER TRIBES IN MOROCCO ARE QUEER

Are Nomads Whose Principal Occupation Is Fighting—Polygamy Prevails Among Them.

ELILLA, Morocco—(By A. P.)—The customs of the two Berber tribes whose territory has just been re-occupied by Spanish troops as a result of their recent victories are very interesting.

These tribes are known as the Beni-Buyahi and Beni-Bu-Ifrur, including the settlements of Segangan and Zeulan, extending to Monte Arruit, Tistutin, Batel and Garet.

Acoording to the best information they number about 16,000 of whom about 5,000 are males of fighting age. In the last 15 years their number has been reduced from about 40,000 of both sexes by inter-tribal fighting and migration because of bad harvests.

The tribes are divided into nine factions all of which quarrel frequently between themselves, a practice common of the Berber stock from which they descend. They became mixed with the Arab invaders in the seventh century.

They are nomads who settle temporarily in places where the pasturage is plentiful, for they possess large numbers of camels, sheep and cattle. They live under large tents, which they pitch in circles, thus forming an aduar, or settlement. The tents are made of sheep's wool mixed with camel or goat's hair for the more wealthy among the tribesmen, while the poorer members of the tribes must content themselves with grass fibre.

The men are of changeful mood, at times seeking adventure in rapine and at others indulging in prolonged periods of laziness.

Polygamy prevails among them in proportion to their means of providing substenance for the women. These poor creatures in every part of Morocco lead the most miserable lives. They look after the cattle, grind the grain, make the bread, churn the butter, hew the wood, draw the water which often has to be carried long distances, shear the sheep and goats, card and weave the wool and hair as well as the grass fibre, do all the plowing and sowing, and generally are treated by their lordly husbands even worse than the animals to whom they are yoked for field work.

Eat Four Meals Daily.

Their only consolation is in eating. They consume four meals daily, at which they drink great quantities of weak tea, and before they retire for the night devour large quantities of alcuzcuz—balls composed of flour, water and honey.

They are very careful with the cattle and never forget to put them to pasture facing away from the sun, so that they will not lose their sight thru the brightness.

Among the chief festivities are those connected with births and the giving of names, which occurs eight days after birth, when the father sacrifices a sheep and, sprinkling the blood, pronounces the names to be given to the child in the name of Allah.

At 20 years of age, it is customary to marry. A young man then announces to his father his desire to wed a certain young woman. The father communicates with the father of the chosen bride and sends his brothers to sacrifice a sheep in front of his tent, at the same time appealing to the father to give his daughter in marriage to their nnephew.

If the father consent, the price of the young woman and the dowry she is to bring with her is agreed upon. The day of the ceremony is settled, the bride knowing nothing about it.

When the wedding day arrives, the parents of the bridegroom go in procession to the tent of the bride's father, to whom they bring the half of the price to be paid for the bride, receiving in return therefor the half of the bride"s' dowry. The men fire three rifle shots and the women shout with joy.

The couple, altho the ceremony is yet incomplete, go to their future tent together. The real wedding ensues the following day when the bride is taken in procession on the back of a camel, covered with silks and followed by her body-slave if she is wealthy enough to possess one, to the tent of the bridegroom, where she is welcomed by his parents and the remainder of the price and dowry changes hands. The wedding is competed to the accompaniment of much feasting.

A bride who proves unfaithful may be sent back to her father's tent dressed in sackcloth.

GERMAN NFWSPAPERS PROTEST SELLING

Wage Campaign Against Selling Commodities to Foreigners Since Mark Has Fallen So Much in Value

COBLENZ, Germany—German newspapers for weeks have been waging a campaign of protest against what is termed the "selling out of Germany" to foreigners who have invaded the country to purchose goods since the mark began its sharp decline early in October.

The mark has fallen in value much faster than the prices advanced and, as a consequence, thousands of speculators have been attracted to Germany to take advantage of the situation.

In the occupied area, the influx of foreigners became so great within a few days that the allied authorities soon decided that some concerted action was necessary to protect the residents.

The president of the Rhineland province, acting under direction of the inter-allied Rhineland high commission, issued a decree prohibiting purchase of merchandise by foreigners not actually residing within the territorroy of occupation. This order does not affect members of the allied military forces, the Rhineland commission nor other foreigners who were in the occupied area on legitiate business.

Officials deemed that this step toward trade regulation was necessary to prevent retailers from selling all their stocks to foreigners taking advantage of the low rate of exchange on foreign currencies at a time when the price on goods in the German stores had not been advanced, or at least not marked up in comparison with the depreciation of German money.

For days, buyers poured into the Rhineland on every train and by automobile from Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, France and other nearby countries and business in the stores of Coblenz, Cologne and Aix-la-Chappelle flourished as it never had before. The foreigners bought everything on sale and in whatever quantity could be arranged with the retailer. This abnormal demand for goods continued for days and reached such a stage at times that storekeepers found it necessary to close their doors, because of the crowds, or because the shelves were empty. Clerks worked 16 and 18 hours a day trying to keep up with the demand.

Many articles of American manufacture are on sale in Coblenz stores at retail prices much lower than in the United States, taking into consideration the rate of exchange. It is explained here that these goods came from surplus army stocks in France which at various times since the armistice have been disposed of by the United States liquidation commission to the Germans and merchants of various other countries.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES

Goucher college has received the sum of $25,000 for the establishment of the Elizabeth King fellowship for the political education of women.

"Albion college will not be moved elsewhere," says President John W. Laird. He asserts that one of Michigan's largest cities had offered th Methodist institution a campus of 150 acres and an endowment fund of $5,000,000. Dr Laird says that he believes Albion has the best chance for development of any town between Detroit and Chicago.

The records for the first semester at Northwestern university show that the co-eds have a higher scholastic standing than the men. Two girls were classed as "perfect," which means that during the first half of the year they received an "A" in all their studies.

The fact was also brought out that fraternity members do not make as good grades as non-fraternity members.

The American council on education has been given $170,000 by the Carnegie corporation, the general education board, the commonwealth fund, and the Milbank memorial fund, to be used to make a thorough investigation of the cost of education and of public resources available to support it. The committee appointed to make the investigation are Samuel P. Capen, Elwood P. Cubberly, Edward C. Elliott, Thomas E. Finnegan, Robert M. Haig, Henry C. Morrison, George D. Strayer, Victor Morawetz, and Herbert S. Weet.

"A college education is no longer an unproved quantity," states Prof. A. Caswell Ellis, in a report prepared for the United States bureau of education. "Measured even in terms of financial value alone, it has now a definite standing. Professor Ellis took 15,142 names of successful men from the encyclopedia, and divided them into college and non-college men. He found that there were 277 times as many college-bred men who had amassed great wealth as there were non-college men.

Prof. Ellis points out that although less than 1 per cent of Americans are college graduates, yet tih sone per cent has furnished:

35 per cent of our presidents.
36 per cent of the members of congress.
47 per cent of the speakers of the house.
54 per cent of the vice presidents.
62 per cent of the secretaries of state.
50 per cent of the secretaries of the treasury.
67 per cent of the attorney generals.

PARIS JEWELERS GET TIME BY WIRELESS

PARIS—(By the A. P.)—Fifteen hundred small wireless outfits have been installed in Paris jewelry, watch and clock stores to enable the jewellers to catch the correct Greenwich meridian time as it is sent daily at 10 o'clock by the Eiffel Tower. Formerly the exact time had to be obtained from the observatory by telephone.

The installation is simplicity itself. The outfit, about nine inches in diameter, is hung on a nail in the wall. A copper wire run down to the cellar or along a water or gas pipe, serves as a "ground wire" while the removal of the bulb from a nearby electric light and the insertion of a contact plug takes the place of antennae. It can be done in five minutes.

The outfit can be regulated to hear anything that is sent out from the Eiffel tower. The correspondent listened in when the press matter was being sent out one day and the signals were clearly and easily heard.

Don't try to save money buying cheap or big-can Baking Powders. You can't do it. You'll throw out more in spoiled bakings than you save on price of the powder. And don't think that old style high priced powders are best because they cost most. They are not.
CALUMET BAKING POWDER
has proved in millions of bake-day tests that it is the best baking powder ever made—that's why it is the biggest selling baking powder in the world today. No other baking powder makes such temptingly good—tender, wholesome bakings. No baking powder of anywhere near the same quality is sold at such a low price.

You use less of Calumet—because it is the highest grade baking powder. One teaspoonful is equal to two teaspoonfuls of many other brands.
And there is no "luck" about it when you use Calumet. No loss. It is absolutely sure. It is the most economical of all. Millions of housewives use it — and so do leading domestic science teachers and cooking experts.
You save when you buy it. You save when you use it.
Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

WHEAT UNDERWENT SETBACK IN PRICE

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Wheat underwent a setback in price today largely as a result of selling pressure due to more or less general relief from drought in the southwest. The market closed heavy with May $1.15¼ to $1.15½, and July $1.03¾ to $1.03⅞. Corn lost ⅜ to 1c and oats ¼@⅜ to ½c. In provisions the outcome ranged from 5c decline to an advance of 2½c.

At first the wheat market averaged a little higher owing apparently to a moderate demand from houses with seaboard connections and to London dispatches emphasizing reports that Japan of late had been a purchaser on a large scale.

Gossip in some quarters however, that Japanese buying was in the nature of preparation for war failed to meet with any general acceptance. On the contrary upturns in price met with increased offerings especially from Southwestern sources and affecting in particularly the July delivery a new crop month, which touched a new low price for the season. The weakness in July acted as a drag on the old crop deliveries, December and May and the market closed at the lowest level of the day. An estimate that 24,000,000 bushels from the old crop still remained in Argentine was a late bearish factor.

Provisions were neglected on account of the packing house strike. Nominally the market showed no important change.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Maximum price for the year were made by a number of issues in the stock and bonds lists today. Many gains were subjected to sharp downward revision however, in the latter part of the session.

Rails followed their listless course of last week, investment and junior shares making only slight changes. Apart from several of the most speculative foreign and domestic oils were relatively dull and irregular.

Greatest activity and strength were shown by shipments, steels, motors and kindred accessories.

Shippings, foodstuffs and textiles made various advances. Lima Locomotive, a comparatively obscure industrial was the strongest feature at a net gain of 11 points.

Sears Roebuck continued to weaken repeating its low record of the year. Sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

Excepting the German rate, which was moderately reactionary all foreign exchanges rallied briskly from last week's late reaction.

Sterling rose 2 cents and the various continental bills were higher by 7 to 2 points.

Liberty Second and Fourth 4¼s the latter a slight fraction over par were among the new high records in the bond list. Other issues were uncertain on the heaviness of Mexicans. Total sales (par value) aggregated $21,850,000.

GERMANS QUARRELING OVER WHAT LOST WAR

Why Not Ask General Pershing of the A. E. F?

BERLIN—(By A. P.)—Why Germany was beaten is again a topic of acrimonius newspaper controversy now that the third anniversary of the collapse of the German war machine is at hand.

Opinions are as violently expressed and as widely divergent as ever. An impetus to bitter recrimination has been given by an interview with Field Marshal von Hindenburg, which appeared the other day in the Hamburg Tageblatt. In it, the aged army chief once more affirmed his belief in the "dagger thrust in the back of the army"—the treacherous breakdown of civilian support for the military leaders.

The sequel has been the publication of a mass of official material, notably by the Vorwaerts, to show that it was certainly not the civilians who lost the war.

Major Deutelmoser, the former chief of the official German press bureau, writes in the Berlin Tageblatt maintaining that the blind faith of the German nation in its military leaders continued to the bitter end; in fact, until it was plain to all that the military idols had come to grief irreparably, "because they were just soldiers and not statesmen, which was the deplorable mistake made by the people at home," says the writer.

The extreme radical press is even more bitter in its denunciation of the military failure. The Freiheit publishes a long article to show that the German people were systematically deceived; that they had no conception of the true situation at the front, and that the supreme army command deliberately spread false reports.

Furious denials of these allegations come from the conservative organs. The Tageczeitung wrathfully accuses the "vile agitators" who, it says, had long ago whetted the weapon of treachery; while Count Beventlow in the Abendblatt declares that it was neither Foch's genius nor the British blockade that overcame Germany, but "the venomous work of deserters and traitors behind the German front, who had been infected by the pacifist and evolutionary virus."

Adolph Koester, a former minister in the Socialist cabinet, who says that the dagger thrust story is one of the most insidious and stupid of war legends," Koester produces official evidence from reports of commanding generals, themselves, that the German army was well and truly beaten; that it had no efficient reserves; that the Allies were incontestably superior in men and materials, and that the British blockade had Germany by the throat. "No Bolshevism, and no pacifism had anything to do with that," the writer declares.

There is no sign that Germans ever will agree on the question why they were defeated.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS NOTES

The biggest potatoes of the year, weighing from two to five pounds each, were served on the Foch-American Legion special, en route from Minneapolis, Minn., to the Pacific coast. The "spuds" were so big that they required an hour and a half in the baking.

Selected by L. K. Owen, superintendent of dining cars on the Northern Pacific railroad, the biggest of the tubers was served Marshal Foch, whose amazement was evident.

Training allowances for sick and wounded ex-service men will not be reduced 20 per cent, according C. R. Forbes, director of the veterans' bureau, who has informed the American Legion that this move never has been considered.

Ninety per cent of the 100,000 disabled men now being trained receive $100 a month.

Three French war brides confronted Marshal Foch when the American Legion special stopped in St. Maries, Idaho. They were crying.

"We love America, but oh! how we are lonesome for France" they sobbed.

"Never forget France," Foch replied, "but you must love your new home and honor your husbands."

But the marshal had to blow his nose hard.

Ex-service men of the World war who want to be first, second or third class United States postmasters are to be given a 5 per cent advance on their civil service ratings and credit for time spent in service. President Harding's executive order putting the provision into effect was recently promulgated at the instance of the American Legion.

Receipts from the entertainments given by posts of the American Legion or its auxiliary are not taxable under the new revenue law passed by the extra session of the 67th congress. Such receipts, even when the proceeds of the entertainments were given for charitable purposes, were taxable under the entertainment tax of the old revenue law.

The examination of boy scouts in Minneapolis has been entrusted to members of the Raoul Lufberry post of the American Legion. A board appointed by the post will have charge of the examinations in sixty subjects and will make recommendations as to the awarding of merit badges.

The high school graduate with the best athletic record in Elkhorn, Wis., will receive annualy an American Legion medal, gift of the local Legion post.

Fifteen cents buys a meal for needy ex-service men and families at the American Legion restaurant Toledo. The menu includes steak or chop, potatoes, bread, butter and coffee. The difference between the cost of the food and the price at the counter is made up by employed Legionnaires.

When Marshal Foch, now on a tour of the country with the American Legion, returns to New York, Dec. 14, to sail for France on the liner, Paris, he will have traveled 16,000 miles, visited 42 states, and stopped at 200 cities and towns. He made his 245th speech at Richmond, Va., before starting west and had received he degree of LL. D. from 21 American universities.

"If pardon is granted to Debs or others fairly convicted of treason or sedition during a time when the nation's very life was at stake, the lives of those boys who lie on the fields of France and those who lie broken in hospitals have indeed been sacrificed in vain," Hanford MacNider, commander of the American Legion, has telegraphed President Harding, requesting that "no leniency be shown those traitors who stabbed us in the back while we were giving our all to this country."

Kansas City is soon to have a municipal airport as a result of the interest in aviation by the recent successful air meet, held in connection with the American Legion convention. Action is now being taken by a committee of members of the Flying club of Kansas City to find a suitable field.

Following a series of shooting scrapes in and near Wichita, in which two men were shot to death and four others dangerously wounded, 500 members of the American Legion volunteered to aid in preserving order in case of emergency. The Legionnaires will be available for police duty immediately if the trouble with the gangsters becomes acute.
